DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-35 are presented for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-6, 10-15, 19-24, and 28-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mousseau et al. (USPN 6,477,529) (hereinafter Mousseau).

3. Referring to claim 1, Mousseau discloses a method for transferring data to a wireless device over a wireless communications network, said method comprising the steps:

receiving at a first server (gateway) a request for data transmitted over said wireless communications network from said wireless device (abstract; Figure 5, reference characters 300A, 302-306);

transmitting said request over a second communications network from said first server to a second server containing the requested data (abstract; Figure 2, reference character 12');

receiving at said first server said requested data transmitted over said second communications network from said second server (abstract);

parsing said requested data on said first server to remove data not displayable (advanced HTML and JAVA content) on said wireless device (Figure 3, reference characters 104-112; col. 5, line 57 to col. 6, line 4; col. 12, lines 38-62); and transmitting said parsed requested data over said wireless communications network from said first server (gateway) to said wireless device (Figure 3, reference character 116; Figure 5).

4. Referring to claim 2, Mousseau discloses the second communications network is the World-Wide-Web (col. 3, lines 54-63).

5. Referring to claim 3, Mousseau discloses the requested data constitute a Web page (col. 3, lines 54-63).

6. Referring to claim 4, Mousseau discloses reformatting said request into an HTTP request prior to transmitting said request to said second server (col. 4, lines 26-41).

Art Unit: 2143

7. Referring to claim 5, Mousseau discloses compressing said parsed requested data prior to transmitting said parsed requested data from said first server to said wireless device (col. 4, lines 35-41).

8. Referring to claim 6, Mousseau discloses encrypting said parsed requested data prior to transmitting said parsed requested data from said first server to said wireless device (col. 4, lines 35-41).

9. Claims 10-15, 19-24, and 28-32 are rejected for similar reasons as stated above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 7, 9, 16, 18, 25, 27, 33, and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mousseau in view of Landgren (USPN 6,115,754) (cited by applicant in IDS).

12. Referring to claim 7, Mousseau discloses a method and system of transferring data as stated in the claims above. Mousseau does not disclose including an identification of a wireless device type and a wireless communications network type. Landgren discloses including an identification of a wireless device type (User-Agent) and a wireless communications network type (CDPD Network, etc.) (col. 9, line 17 to col. 10, line 24). It would be obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teaching of Landgren with Mousseau to efficiently determine a mobile unit's position as stated in Landgren (col. 2, lines 64-67).

13. Referring to claim 9, Mousseau discloses a method and system of transferring data as stated in the claims above. Mousseau does not disclose requested data is transmitted to said wireless device in data packets at a pace dependent upon said wireless communications network type. Landgren discloses requested data is transmitted to said wireless device in data packets at a pace dependent upon said wireless communications network type (col. 9, line 62 to col. 10, line 24). It would be obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teaching of Landgren with Mousseau to efficiently determine a mobile unit's position as stated in Landgren (col. 2, lines 64-67).

14. Claims 16, 18, 25, 27, 33, and 35 are rejected for similar reasons as stated above.

Claims 8, 17, 27, and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mousseau in view of Landgren as applied to claims 1, 7, 10, 16, 19, 25, 28, and 33 above, and further in view of De Boor et al. (USPN 6,173,316) (cited by applicant in IDS) (hereinafter De Boor).

15. Mousseau in view of Landgren disclose a method of transferring data to a wireless device as stated in the claims above. Mousseau in view of Landgren do not disclose removing data is dependent upon said wireless device type. De Boor discloses disclose removing data is dependent upon said wireless device type (col. 18, lines 2-4; col. 28, line 25 to col. 29, line 18). It would be obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teaching of De Boor with Mousseau and Landgren to efficiently adapt HTML documents to be displayed on wireless devices as stated in De Boor (abstract).

Conclusion

16. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

17. Perkins (USPN 5,159,592) discloses a network address management system for a wired network supporting wireless communication to a plurality of mobile users.

18. Thomas et al. (USPN 6,453,160) discloses enhancing a wireless gaming experience using position holders to replace data.

19. Mousseau et al. (USPN 5,559,800) discloses remotely controlling of gateway functions in a wireless data communication network.
